Description

Elegant 2-body sideboard from the 18th century with 4 doors typically Regency with beautiful moldings sufficient for its ornamentation. The very deep bottom typical of this period has a scalloped plinth and roll-up feet. The door moldings are superbly made. In the lower part is an original shelf with its 18th century wrought iron hook. The ironwork is period. The upper body is set back with 2 roll-up molded doors in the chair rails and a low plinth that allowed for kitchen utensils. Inside 2 shelves, 1 posterior and the other original with period wrought iron hook. Beautiful forge work. The locks work and are from the 19th century. Furniture entirely pegged and sawn by hand. Fonçures, shelves and sides in oak. Facades in fruit wood: cherry and walnut. Usual restorations: 4 pieces of feet
