Description

Charming and very atypical little English seat in inlaid mahogany, manufacture from the very beginning of the 20th century. It is indeed a bench / end of bed forming a storage box thanks to its tilting front door opening onto two lockers. This pretty little seat can be installed absolutely anywhere: entrance, bedroom, office etc... Easy to move thanks to its two armrests acting as handles, it can for example be placed at the end of the bed to store slippers and pajamas, in an entrance to put on or take off your shoes, in a living room at the end of the sofa as a magazine rack, etc.... Furniture that is elegant, refined and very practical. Our bench is in mahogany, the door is adorned with a wreath of inlaid flowers. The seat is made up of a comfortable cushion covered with wine-colored velvet with a small tear on the back.
