

Chickens And Other Birds In A Farmyard, 18th Century Attributed To Marmaduke Cradock

2 800 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Très bon état

Length : 60cm

Width : 50cm

Description

Chickens and Other Birds in a Barnyard, 18th Century Attributed to Marmaduke CRADOCK (circa 1660-1717) Fine 18th century English school barnyard scene depicting various birds among tools and jars, oil on panel. Early and important English school farm scene with birds among implement and ships. Excellent detail and distinctly similar to the works of the leading subject painter Craddock. Original condition with no noticeable damage or major restorations. Good condition of the panel. Old black and gold frame. No visible signature common to works from this period. Craddock was a self-taught painter from Somerset who later moved to London but deliberately avoided the patronage of aristocrats. Dimensions: 22.5" x 20" framed

Dealer

SFA Gallery

Surrey Fine Arts Limited

Tel : 0044 7766909837

Mobile : 0044 7766909837

Penny Royal

Fleet GU51 4AD