Description

Porte-Torchere statue representing a Nubian in Polychrome Carved Wood on its base, in the Venetian style. Standing on a rock, the right leg leaning slightly backwards, the Subject holds a vine in Golden Metal ending in a Candelabra with five branches of Light, in working order. The Character bears the physical characteristics denoting his African origin, by his black complexion, his frizzy hair and his fleshy lips. His Moorish style costume, from the headdress to the turban around his waist, is finely executed. You will appreciate the contrast of the Black color with the brilliance of Gold and Silver with reddish reflections. Icon of the colonial era, this Nubian Torchere Holder will bring an Exotic touch to your interior, while fulfilling its function of Lighting if necessary.
