Description

French clock with a set of vases made of two colors of bronze. The clock is a rectangular model with an ornament on the front of two fishermen and two people in a boat. The timepiece has an enamel ring with Roman numerals on it. The hands are in a classic style. A part of the Brocot movement mechanism can be seen on the inside of the dial. The vases have a square base on four round legs. In this part an ornament with birds has been incorporated in both vases. This is followed by a narrow neckline that continues into a wider part with ornaments of a woman and a man in classic Chinese dress. The vases are decorated on the sides with elephant heads. This makes them very decorative. The ornaments are incredibly detailed and of perfect quality. The timepiece runs perfectly. With original pendulum
