Description

Superb etrare small child's secretary from the 18th century in mahogany. This secretary rests on legs with canted sides, it opens in front by a door in the lower part surmounted by a flap simulating in its upper part a drawer front. Inside there are small drawers and a shelf. The whole is topped with a marble ringed with a bronze gallery. The front and sides of the cabinet are entirely veneered and covered with a marquetry decorated with flowers, of great finesse. The secretary bears the stamp of André-Louis GILBERT on the right rear upright, born in Paris in 1746 and received Master in 1774. High quality work in excellent condition, rare piece of furniture in its dimensions.
