Description

The sculpture we present is from the Art Deco period (around 1930). It is composed of different materials as was done in those years: marble, different veins of onyx, the animals are in silver metal (regule). The horns are made of horn. This object is imposing in size and of a somewhat exceptional quality in this genre. This is a deer looking at its female, the doe. The object is very heavy and will preferably be delivered by hand. If we have to ship it, it will be necessary to provide a crate that we will manufacture in the workshop.
