250 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Bronze

Height : 23,5 cm

Description

Tibet, first half of the 20th century, superb bronze statuette representing a Tara, female incarnation of compassion, standing on a lotiform base, hands in the gesture of pacification. It is richly adorned with jewels; his head crowned with a large crown. She wears a large lotus flower on her left arm. Realization of a beautiful finesse. Height 23.5cm. Good condition except for slight normal wear and no impact. Two small holes located on the back of the base indicate that the statuette was probably fixed on an altar.

We take particular care with our packaging by using optimum protection. The shipment is made with insurance included. Shipping rates:
