Description

Doll's bed made of bamboo and a glass plate in the bottom.

The elements are turned to create the different shapes.

Small round-headed nails are found on the ends.

The glass plate was cut to measure, there are some small scratches and micro chips on the edges, almost invisible on an overview.

Good general condition, there is a crack on an amount, but that does not prevent its solidity.

We also note on the high upright and the low upright on one side, a hole, the bed was probably fixed to something.

French work from the first part of the 20th century.
