Description

Small Half-Moon Commode, made up of two categories of Mahogany: Cuba and wire for the structure, Moiré and veneer for the fronts of the openings. Its top is a period marble, white with gray veining and edge cut to Gorge. This Apparat piece of furniture offers three drawers in three rows, the first in the belt being shallower than the other two. Each of them is trimmed with brass, more precisely with an escutcheon and two small square drop handles. This chest of drawers also offers two curved side doors, revealing spaces divided by shelves placed on fixed cleats. They are provided with original locks in working order and the piece of furniture is supplied with its five current keys. It should be noted that the fronts of the drawers, like those of the doors, are embellished with strips forming frames and thus highlighting the pretty Moiré Mahogany that composes them. The set rests on four turned feet, with brass rings in the upper part and sabots of the same alloy in the lower part. The bottoms and sides of the drawers as well as the back of the cabinet are in Oak. We will appreciate the reasonable dimensions of this Small Half-Moon Chest of Drawers, as well as the softness of its lines. Despite its 250 years of history, it is without excessive pretension or unnecessary frills that it will nevertheless bring a certain cachet to your interior.
