Description

A gold and musical rectangular pocket-fitting form snuff-box The snuff-box is lobed on top and base. The sides are chased with foliate scrolls on matted ground. There is a double compartments, one of which contains the musical movement. This type of snuffbox was characteristic of Swiss production. The music boxes with cylinder appear at the end of the 18th century in Switzerland with the movements of Antoine Favre. At the beginning of the 19th century Isaac Piguet perfected these movements and miniaturized them.
