Description

Painting by Jules Van De Leene around 1920, depicting a scene of a cruise ship or ocean liner docked. Colorful, pleasant, bright and lively painting. The touch of the painter is lively, we feel the assured technique of the watercolourist having no room for error. Gouache technique on cardboard, Art Deco framing under glass, it would ideally be necessary to provide a suitable master key. In very good condition, unsigned.Provenance: Artist's family. Biography: Belgian painter from Brussels (Ixelles 1887 - Auderghem 1962). Trained at the Academies of Ixelles and Brussels with Constant Montald, he began with watercolor (nude, portrait, interior, marine) in a rather realistic style, he then discovered oil painting in 1923, his painting then became more luminous. ..
