

Hamsa Pendant

1 100 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Gold

Description

The Hamsa pendant, also known as the Hand of Fatima, is an ancient symbol of protection and luck in many cultures. The rose and black gold bring a modern and elegant touch to the design, giving the pendant a distinctive and sophisticated appearance. The rose and black gold are achieved through a surface treatment, giving the pendant a unique and contrasting look. With a total weight of 7 grams, the pendant and chain are medium in size, making them comfortable to wear while still providing a significant visual presence when worn.
