Description

These cement tiles were saved in extremis from the renovation of a Breton house from the 1920s. 10 m2 are available, frieze included. The price per m2 is 100 euro They are in good condition without giving the impression of coming fresh from a manufacturing plant since they are weathered by the century they have gone through, without any problems, however. Their pattern in autumn colors brings a warm atmosphere, and the geometric patterns place them in a very contemporary line.
