Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Description

Quick description

Old and imposing fragment of decorative wooden panel, fairground folk art around 1900.

Probably part of a merry-go-round, the front being very ornate and the back also being exquisitely painted.

Carefully cleaned, patina of time and use protected by a veil of varnish.

Many coats of paint, still very solid.

Reinforcements on the rear completely revised redesigned, original fixing present.

Very decorative piece.

Dimensions

90cm high, 63cm wide and 9cm thick.
