Description

Rare and superb KONYA HOTAMIS wedding kilim around 1880

Anatolye (South Turkey)

This wedding rug is atypical for its unusual dimensions, 290 * 200cm.

This carpet was tied by the bride's family as a wedding present for the new couple; material is much thicker and denser than for other kilims, with a very beautiful wool woven with tighter knots.

These nomadic tribe rugs are usually bi-partite (except for rare old so-called "workshop" kilims) because they are made using not very wide looms because intended to be frequently transported
