Description

Side table from the Art Nouveau period, attributed to Guth. The walnut base is in the style of Guimard, it recalls the metro entrances of "metropolitan" Paris. The marquetry is typical of this period, it is decorated with poplar, holly, oak leaf and flowering water lily. The woods used are: mahogany, rosewood, oak, ash, linden, bird's eye maple... the proportions and functionality offer a table that is easy to place. Possible delivery not included in the price.
