Description

Serigraphy realised on paper and plexiglass by the Italian artist Alberto Biasi.

The work belongs to the artist's characteristic kinetic artistic production, which through his art implements a search for perceptive and emotional dynamism with the use of optical games.

The silkscreen print has a print run of 31/100 marked on the lower left, while the lower right bears the artist's signature and the date 1972.

The reverse side bears the mark of an art gallery.

The state of preservation of the silkscreen print is perfect.

It has a contemporary foil frame, which is in good condition and shows slight dents or minimal signs of wear due to time.
