Description

This wooden sculpture represents Guanyin (Sanskrit: Avalokiteshvara Bodhisattva). Guanyin is a Bodhisattva personifying compassion, his name means "observing sounds", that is, listening to requests. The wooden sculpture is covered with a thick polychromy composed of black lacquer, underpainting and tortoiseshell gilding. With his right hand, he performs the abhaya-mudra gesture, which in Buddhist mythology is the mudra of "fearless" (a-bhaya), symbolizing care, and with the left hand, the varada-mudra gesture symbolizing pure energy, purification, including of one's own body of toxins and impurities. China or Vietnam, 18th / 19th century. Height 37.5 cm, width 17 cm, depth 15 cm. Good condition as seen in the photos, losses in the polychromy. Free delivery in EU. !
