Description

Element probably in sculpted stone in neo-Gothic form from an English or Irish monument marked Victoria* Jubilee June 21, 1887.

This date corresponds to Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee. there must have been a metal or stone cross at the top originally.

this stone is engraved with an interesting bestiary such as horse, bird and various plants such as thistles, the central motif in the shape of flowers is surrounded in engraving by a cross with 4 wide branches which I identify as a Celtic or Irish cross . note slits as visible in the photos.
