Description

Pierre de Berroeta (1914-2004) Pierre de Berroeta is a painter of the 20th century. Both painter and designer, P. de Berroeta knows how to give a lively character to his works by working on the staging of various geometric shapes. This method of painting is reminiscent of a certain style, that of Vassily Kandinsky. This painting plunges us into an imaginary garden setting through various recognizable elements, such as bodies of water, checkerboard or French square. With a panel of 7 colors, the artist immerses us in an atypical universe that does not leave the spectator indifferent.
