Description

Old necklace made up of a convict link which retains on the front, a round openwork motif, set with rose-cut diamonds and in the center an old brilliant-cut diamond of a larger size. The fastening system of this old necklace is a spring ring. Period: 20th century Main material: yellow gold, 750 thousandths, 18 carats, eagle's head hallmark. Total weight of the central diamond: approximately 0.08 carat. Proportions: Length: approx. 58 cm, thickness of the chain: 1.4 mm, diameter of the pattern: approx. 9 mm. Net weight: about 4.6g. Antique jewel - French work from the beginning of the 20th century. Our opinion: A fine and elegant necklace whose chain, quite long, can be shortened on request.
