Description

Here is a subject more than funny, close to a Japanese subject of course. Sailors ride a fish. It is probably a French work of fine craftsmanship, to be placed towards the end of the 19th century. All with a chocolate patina with several nuances. The general condition is good, note friction and micro-scratches from use, patina wear on the extremities and the bottom. The subject weighs a weight of 173 grams. Our many photos allow you to appreciate the quality of the object. M1105
