Description

Large pair of sconces in the shape of a torchiere (height 57.5 cm) in wrought iron with a double green and gold patina. The original globes are in pressed glass with a foliage pattern, some chips on the base of one of the globes, not visible when the globe is placed (photo 8) The electricity has been redone. We notice similar wall lights on the facade of the villa "Saint Hubert" built in 1890 on the Croisette in Cannes, then remodeled by the architect Eugène Lizeroy in 1907 who gave it a Renaissance look Dimensions of the fixing plate: 16 cm in height long X 6cm
