Meyer-Waldeck started working as a freelance painter. He exhibited extensively at the important German venues and in 1894, he was awarded a medal by the Munich Salon. Meyer-Waldeck traveled during his working lifetime to Russia, Italy and Portugal where he created some of his first paintings. From 1908 until 1910 lived in Dallas, Texas, where he was an Art school director. Later he was appointed a Professor in Germany. He died in 1953 in Castel Neuburg an der Inn, Germany. Today, his work can be found in private and public collections, including in the Berlin Museum and the Breme Museum.
