Description

This mirror with mirror with a bevelled edge has an openwork frame in silver metal. This is worked with rural ornamentation: ears of wheat at the top and bottom of the mirror, and a bunch of grapes at the bottom of the lamp; elements widely used in Art Nouveau decoration. This object also presents laterally friezes of pearls, of decreasing sizes, as well as engravings. This typically French style pleases for its elegance, its slender lines and curves and its forms inspired by nature. The finesse of the workmanship from which this mirror has benefited, as well as its format, make it a perfect decorative object. ***** Period: Late 19th century, early 20th century.
