Description

Pretty Norman oak chest of drawers from the Regency period opening with four drawers in three rows.

The bec de corbin top is framed. The drawers are strongly molded with a domed projection in the center receiving the pull handles and the keyholes.

The rounded fluted uprights end slightly fretted on the front and are joined by the low crosspiece, which is also fretted.

The sides are square paneled with a flower bed. Very pretty entrances and drooping handles with shells and floral foliage in bronze.

In a perfect state.

Period 1st half of the 18th century.

NB: 19th century locks.
