Jensen catalogue: model #636 appears on page 74 of the house catalogue, numbered 636 and referenced F-534 -- primary documentation of origin. The Pyramid collection -- designed by Harald Nielsen in 1928 -- is one of the most celebrated Art Déco creations of Georg Jensen. Nielsen drew inspiration from the treasures of Tutankhamun's tomb, discovered in 1922, to develop this rigorous geometric vocabulary. The stepped foot and the characteristic sphere of the collection are immediately recognisable and have earned the Pyramid series a permanent place in museum collections worldwide. Harald Nielsen (1892-1977) was one of the most prolific designers of the Jensen Silberschmiede, brother-in-law of the founder and artistic director of the house for several decades. Pieces from the Pyramid collection are held in the collections of the Designmuseum Danmark in Copenhagen, MoMA in New York and Koldinghus in Denmark.
