Description

An astonishing pair of Tibetan vases in silver metal covered with natural turquoise and enclosing turquoise cabochons.

superb highly decorated baluster vases decorated with dragons and fantastic animals in reserves: birds, tigers, buffaloes etc...

metal flowers surround turquoise cabochons and the entire surface of the vases is covered with a species of turquoise mosaic, the effect rendered in the light is superb.

one is in perfect condition and the second has received a slight shock with a little lack of turquoise, take a good look at the photos, thank you.

a pair of spectacular vases with Tibetan Buddhist attributes and superb decorative effect.
